LIVER COMPLAINT AND DYSPEPSIA

CURED.—Having some knowledge of Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liver, I ordered it in a severe case of diseased Liver, with the usual symptoms of costiveness, yellow rings of the skin, sick stomach, loss of appetite, with a sense of weight at the stomach, and also considerable nervousness, and found it to be of great service. It will cure this, my patient rapidly improved, and is now quite well.This is a most excellent and mild remedy, and should always be used in cases of diseased Liver and Spleen, for it can be depended upon.B. A. H. D., 375 Bowery, is the only place where the genuine
